

The Idaho Chapter of the American Association of Naturopathic Physicians presents
Annual Conference 2010:

Facets of Naturopathic Medicine

When: Saturday, October 9, 2010, 8am - 4pm,

Where: Hampton Inn & Suites
1500 Riverstone Drive
Coeur d'Alene, ID 83814
Ph: 208-769-7900

Ginkgo biloba

Conference Contact:

Mario Roxas, ND
Phone: 208-946-0984
Fax: 208-246-4995
Email: drmroxas@gmail.com

Registration: $75 (after Sept 10, $85)

CE Credits: 5 CE Units (2 Pharm CE Units)
(pending approval)

Room Reservations:

A block of rooms have been reserved for $99 to $119/night depending on room size. To reserve, call 208-769-7900 by Oct. 1 and ask for the "IDAANP" rate.

Speakers & Topics:

Joanne Hillary, PhD, ND
Fatty Acid Metabolism:
Focus on Heart Disease

Virender Sodhi, MD (Ayurved), ND
Ayurvedic Adaptogens Help to Reduce
Doses of Bio-Identical Hormones

Alan Miller, ND
Clinical Applications of Resveratrol, Curcumin, &
Other Plant Polyphenols

Sara Rodgers, NMD
Topics in Environmental Medicine

Mario Roxas, ND
Select Drug-Herb &
Drug-Nutrient Interactions

Registration:

Registration _____ $75
Registration After Sept 10 _____ $85
TOTAL: _____

Method of Payment:

Check (Make Payable to IDAANP) Visa MasterCard

Name: _____
Address: _____
City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____
Email: _____
Phone: _____ Fax: _____

Name on Card: _____
Credit Card #: _____
Exp Date: _____ Sec Code: _____
Signature: _____

Please mail completed applications to:
IDAANP c/o Mario Roxas, ND 1501 Ponderosa Dr, Sandpoint, ID 83864
Register by fax to:
208-246-4995

Refund Policy: 100% refund 30 or more days before the seminar. 75% refund less 30 days but more than 7 days before the seminar. No refund less than 7 days before the seminar.

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS...

Joanne Hillary, PhD, ND

Dr. Hillary is a general practitioner with specialties in the following areas: women's health, menopause, hormone imbalance, weight management, pain management, thyroid health, diabetes, digestive disorders, and cardiovascular health. She is licensed to practice in the State of Washington and serves on the Washington State Department of Health Naturopathic Advisory Committee. In her previous career, Dr. Hillary earned a PhD in mechanical engineering and worked for 20 years in private industry in the field of fluid/heat transfer research. Dr. Hillary graduated with highest honors from the National College of Naturopathic Medicine in Portland, Oregon. She is committed to the practice of "integrative medicine", combining the best of conventional and alternative approaches to optimize care for each patient.

Alan Miller, ND

A 1989 Bastyr University graduate, Dr. Alan Miller is Technical Advisor for Thorne Research, where he has been involved in product research, development, and formulation; educational services; and technical support for 16 years. Dr. Miller is Senior Editor of Alternative Medicine Review, the peer-reviewed, MEDLINE-indexed journal published by Thorne Research. Dr. Miller is Chief Medical Editor of the book Alternative Medicine Review- Monographs, Volume One, has authored over 20 scientific papers, is a contributing editor to Pizzorno and Murray's Textbook of Natural Medicine, and has lectured on naturopathic topics at medical conferences around the world.

Sara Rodgers, NMD

Dr. Sara Rodgers is a graduate of the Southwest College of Naturopathic Medicine (SCNM). While serving a one-year residency in Family Practice, Dr. Rodgers completed the Certification Course in Environmental Medicine - a subject of particular interest to her as she also holds a Masters degree in Environmental Science. Dr. Rodgers is a member of the American Association of Naturopathic Physicians, and currently serves on the Board of the Idaho Chapter of the AANP. Dr. Rodgers maintains a private practice in Boise, Idaho. In her spare time, she enjoys cycling around Idaho.

Mario Roxas, ND

Mario Roxas, ND is a practicing naturopathic physician in Sandpoint, Idaho and Director of Clinical Support Services at Thorne Research, Inc. He also serves as Associate Editor of the peer-reviewed medical journal, The Alternative Medicine Review. Dr. Roxas received his formal training in naturopathic medicine at the National College of Natural Medicine in Portland, Oregon, where he also completed his residency in Family Practice. Dr. Roxas has worked in the nutrition and botanical medicine industry for over 12 years, and has been a consultant to several leading nutraceutical companies. He has written and lectured to diverse audiences nationwide on various aspects of clinical nutrition, botanical medicine, and naturopathic therapeutics. In his spare time, Dr. Roxas enjoys travelling the world with his wife and son.

Virender Sodhi, MD (Ayurved), ND

Virender Sodhi, MD (Ayurveda), ND was the first Ayurvedic and Naturopathic physician in the United States. He received his MD in Ayurveda in India in 1980, and then in 1986, he came to the West to share Ayurveda as part of a cultural exchange program. In 1988, he graduated from Bastyr University with a degree in Naturopathic Medicine. Dr. Sodhi treats thousands of patients from the United States and around the world. He lectures extensively throughout the U.S. and other countries including New Zealand and Australia, as well as conducting classes and seminars in Ayurvedic Medicine. He also writes regularly about the latest Ayurvedic Science updates and has also been featured in the Townsend Letter. Recently, he was appointed as an official advisor of Ayurveda to the government of Australia.